As one of the first firms in the nation to specialize in justice architecture, we have provided expertise in this vital market for nearly 40 years.

As leaders in the corrections market, we set new trends for the safest, most efficient, and cost-effective solutions to a diverse range of facility types and sizes.

We have worked with the Federal Bureau of Prisons on “Building for a Sustainable Future.” Developing the 2030 self-sustaining/net zero prototype is a response to various Executive Orders, codes, environmental concerns, and rising operational costs.
“The Dewberry team was an integral part of the county’s project team.

Their experienced staff in detention design, responsiveness, creativity, and commitment helped Calaveras County navigate a complex process of building, constructing and occupying a detention facility.”

Sheriff Gary Kuntz
Calaveras County, California
We serve a broad spectrum of local, state, and federal government clients; and offer a complete range of services from feasibility studies and system master plans to full designs for renovations, expansions, and new stand-alone facilities.
