One of the first firms in the nation to specialize in courts architecture, we have been providing expertise in this vital area of practice for nearly 40 years.

Many of the professionals within our courts practice—including our in-house security and technology group—have devoted their entire careers to the design of court facilities. This expertise allows us to respond to our clients’ unique requirements with fresh and creative solutions that are resourceful and operationally sound.

Dewberry knows that beyond issues of space and security requirements, our work is about creating environments that embody a community’s identity and inspire a sense of justice in action.
“Dewberry has worked with the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit for over ten years...

[they] are professional in every aspect and are highly recommended for any complex courthouse design work in the future.”

We serve a broad spectrum of federal, state, and local government clients; and offer a complete range of services from feasibility studies and master plans to full designs for renovations, expansions, and stand-alone new facilities.
