

Higher Education

Great educational facilities support the transfer of knowledge and an enriching, fun student experience.

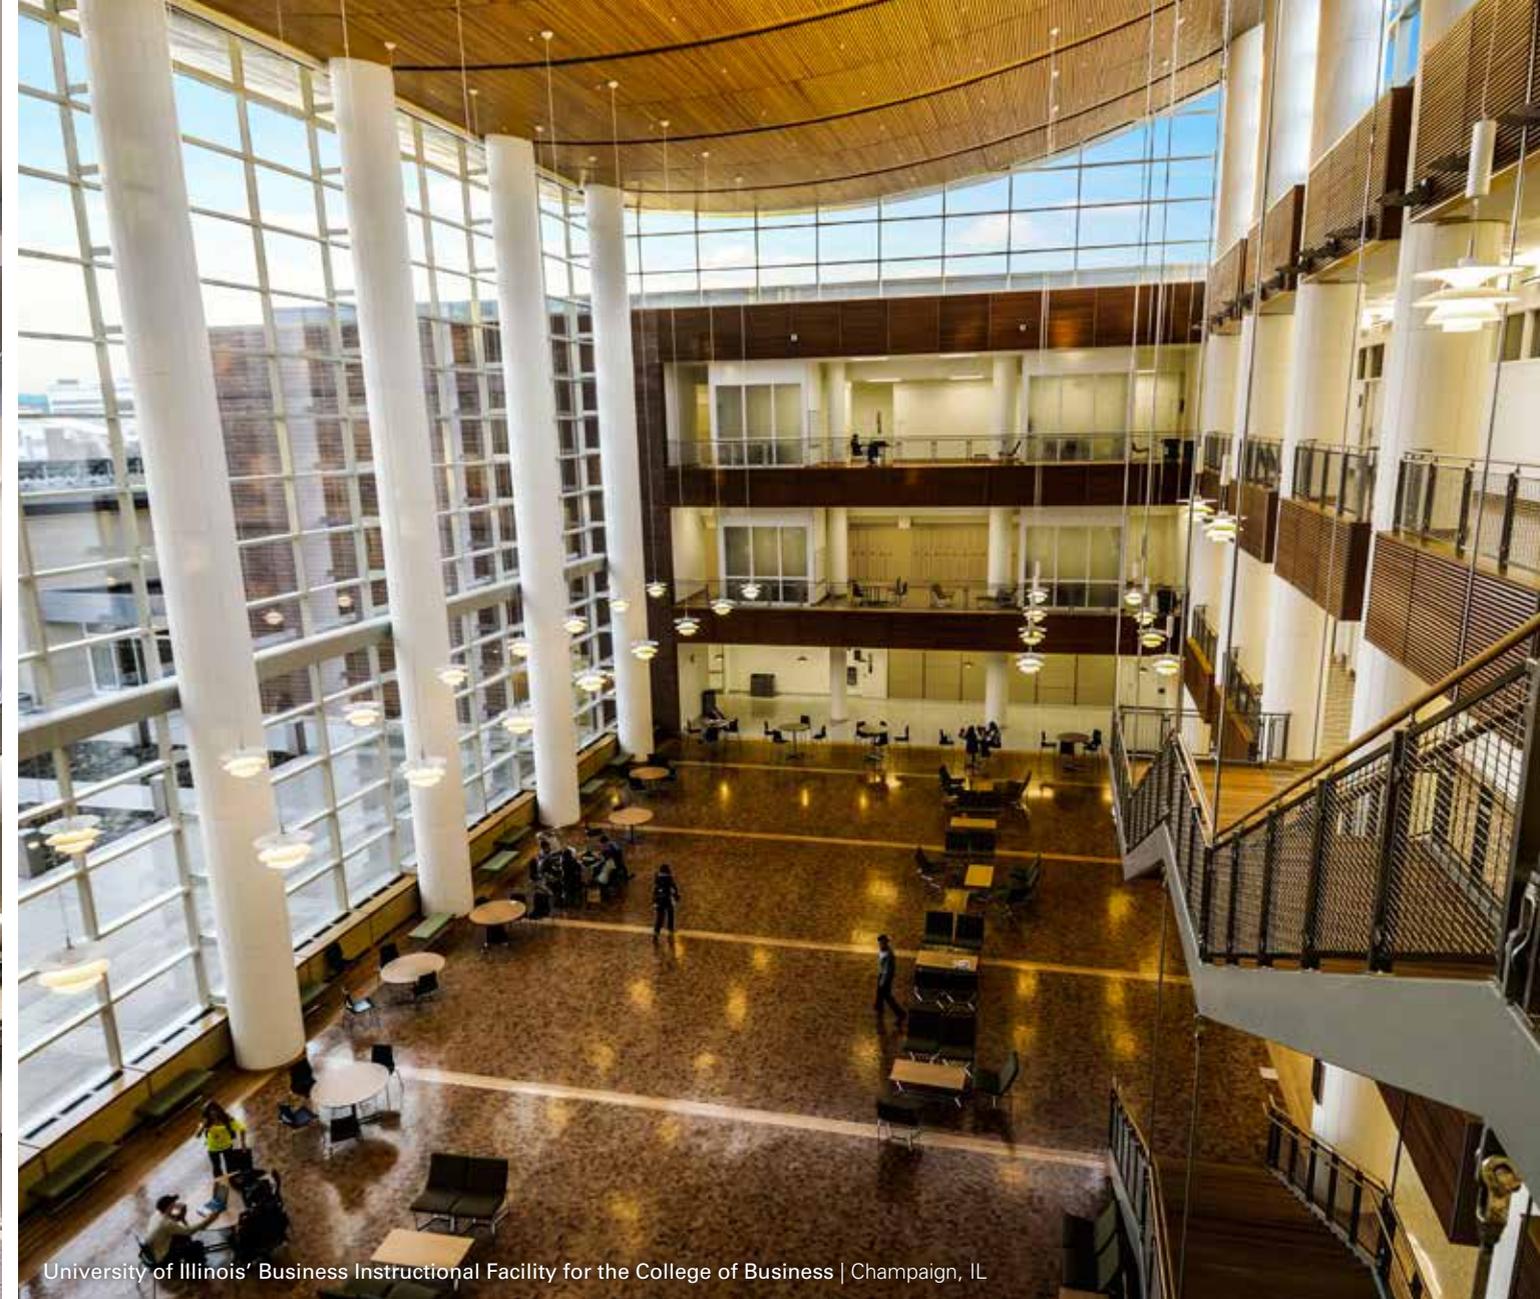

Through master planning and design, our goal is to deliver comprehensive solutions that help colleges and universities attract talented faculty and students.

"University facility life-cycles often exceed 100 years, and the expertise of the Dewberry team has accordingly packaged creativity, flexibility, durability, efficiency, and 'wow' features into these campus solutions.

Their efforts and solutions demonstrate a true partnership approach to providing facility wherewithal."
