We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit.

Aristotle
We offer national expertise in public safety and municipal facility design, having completed hundreds of projects for government agencies and departments. Our team of highly specialized architects and engineers work closely with municipal officials and other stakeholders to design buildings that are functional, flexible, and secure, while also projecting a strong civic presence and connection to the communities these agencies serve.

We utilize a comprehensive needs-based design process that focuses on efficient operations, advanced technology and security, sustainability, and community access and outreach. We bring a passion for the latest proven methods, technologies, and materials so that cost targets, connectivity, and sustainability goals can be met.
“Because of Dewberry’s dedication to our project, we met all of our time constraints, came in under budget and the state-of-the-art police facility speaks for itself.”
