

Interior Design

A photograph of a modern interior hallway. The wall is covered in horizontal wooden slats. A long, light-colored wooden bench is positioned against the wall. The floor is a mix of light wood and dark blue carpet. The hallway leads to a bright area at the end, possibly a window or glass door. The ceiling has recessed lighting.

Interior design is integral to the architecture that surrounds it.

Our goal is to create inventive, functional, and sustainable interiors that work for our clients.

Our services range from interior design to furniture inventory and furniture acquisition for libraries, higher education, fitness and sports recreation, courts, public safety, and commercial clients. Through close collaboration, we help guide our clients to the realization of their goals and visions. Our national presence in the industry allows our designers to pull from a wide array of expertise.

“Our experience with Dewberry on our Parkway project was exemplary. We feel that they worked diligently to understand our goals, needs, and wants for this project.

They then took this information and created a design and vision that exceeded our expectations. We feel that our building shines as an example of our company’s vision and values, and our commitment to the community.”
